Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

3. Claims 1-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being obvious over Hirao et al (JP 11-157939), in view of Bhaduri et al (US 2002/0106611 A1).

Hirao shows a method of manufacturing ceramic parts with microwave sintering a material being built from a primary material such as silicon nitride and with a secondary material, auxiliary agent such as aluminum oxide, yttrium oxide. It does not explicitly show the wavelength and the power of the microwave energy used. Bhaduri shows a microwave sintering of dental parts with a frequency of 2.45 GHz. (i. e. a wavelength of about 12.5 cm) and the power is about 1.0 – 2.5 kw (see Figures 1-14, the abstract and paragraphs [0013] and [0032]-[0040]). It would have been obvious to an ordinary skill in the art at the time of invention to modify Hirao to determine the exact frequency and power for microwave sintering dental parts in view of the teaching of Bhaduri through routine experimentation depending on the size and type of load to be heated in order to achieve optimal heating.

Response to Amendment

4. Applicant's arguments filed 10/06/2008 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

5. Applicants argue that the sintering material of Hirao does not disclose or suggest the vessel of claim 1. This is not found persuasive. As in the claimed limitations claimed "besides being built from primary materials for the structure of the vessel, the vessel is built from a secondary material which comprises at least one material selected from the group consisting of: non-metallic materials, para-magnetic material, ferro-magnetic materials and antiferromagnetic materials." Hirao disclosed the a primary materials (silicon nitride) for the structure of the vessel, the vessel is built from a secondary material (aluminum oxide, Yttrium oxide) which comprises at least one material selected from the group consisting of: non-metallic materials, para-magnetic material, ferro-magnetic materials and antiferromagnetic materials. Further, since the claimed limitation does not describe what is a primary material and does not preclude the primary material being ceramic. Hirao also discloses more than one material which also meets the claimed limitations even if the silicon nitride is not a primary material. Thus, Hirao meets the claimed limitations.
